Anthroposophic Doctors & Care Organizations in the Netherlands

Care Organizations

Note: like the US, the Netherlands has no dedicated acute-care “anthroposophic hospitals.” The largest anthroposophic organizations instead provide long-term disability, psychiatric, and elder care across many small locations. The historic Rudolf Steiner Kliniek and Zeylmanskliniek hospitals both closed in the 1990s–2020s; their functions were absorbed by Lievegoed and mainstream care providers.

Doctors & Health Centers (Therapeutica)

Anthroposophic GPs in the Netherlands mostly practice inside multidisciplinary health centers called “therapeutica” (GP + physio/art/eurythmy therapists under one roof) rather than solo. NVAA (the professional association, nvaa.nl) counts roughly 110 anthroposophic doctors nationwide; the sample below covers major therapeutica across different regions.

Sources & notes: Care organizations and therapeutica identified via NVAA (Nederlandse Vereniging van Antroposofische Artsen, nvaa.nl) and NVAZ (Nederlandse Vereniging van Antroposofische Zorgaanbieders, nvaz.nl), cross-checked against each organization's own website. NVAA maintains a national list of ~20 therapeutica (nvaa.nl/hoe-vind-ik-een-arts) which is JavaScript-rendered and could not be scraped directly – the entries above are a representative sample across regions rather than the complete list. The patient association Antroposana (Boslaan 15, 3701 CH Zeist, 085 773 1440) can also help locate a practitioner. Entries marked 'Not publicly listed' had no email in any source checked – use the phone number or website contact form instead.
